The list of champions and competitors of the tournament reads like a who&#65533;s who of college and professional golf. Phil Mickelson. Ryan Moore. Billy Mayfair. Stewart Cink. Patrick Rogers. Camilo Villegas. Rickie Fowler. Charley Hoffman. Plus many more.
In the aftermath of the financial crisis, Trump played the part of golf&#65533;s savior, swooping in and buying a number of prestigious-but-failing courses in the United States and abroad. He renovated the properties and marketed them to golf&#65533;s ruling bodies, which, swayed by promises of profit, lined up to stage exhibitions, tour stops, and major championships on Trump courses.
