Joining the Navy pair that we just showcased will be this Core Black/Solar Red colorway of the adidas nmd xr1 black.

This adidas nmd xr1 primeknit starts off with a sleek Core Black mesh all throughout the upper with tonal detailing hitting the side panel cage, the tongue and heel leather tabs, laces, and the EVA inserts on the midsole. Solar Red has been placed on the stitching on the ankle and on the translucent outsole for a pop of color. Lastly we have a full-length White Boost midsole for comfort.

The San Antonio Spurs just closed out their series against the Rockets to move on to the Western Conference semifinals last night, so now&#65533;s the perfect time to preview this upcoming look for the adidas nmd xr1 triple black that seems perfect for fans of the team. This Primeknit execution for the XR1 features a striped glitch camo motif in shades of grey, black, and white, perfect for matching up with your Kawhi jersey as you cheer on the squad in the next round.

Whether you&#65533;re a Spurs fan or not, you&#65533;ll probably agree that this is one of the best looks for the adidas nmd xr1 white yet, so don&#65533;t hesitate to pick up a pair when they drop next Saturday, May 20th at select adidas Originals retailers around the world, because they probably won&#65533;t last long.
