adidas Originals has given its adidas tubular radial black a new look for the colder months of the year. The latest designs showcase a two-tone melange knit construction on the upper along with synthetic suede overlays in Antique Brass, Mystery Blue and Light Brown colorways. A perfect treatment for this time of the year, with the result being a premium look in three classic and easy to wear colorways.

The use of a diamond quilted base gives the adidas tubular radial grey a bit more of a premium look and feel. Add in the suede hits on the toe and heel and the use of smooth leather on the caging system and eyelets and you&#65533;ve got yourself a pretty luxe looking model. Although the design utilizes many luxe features, the tonal look of the shoe makes it very easy and versatile that can be easily dressed up or dressed down. A Light Grey Tubular midsole adds contrast and completes the look of the shoe. Priced at $110, you can now find these at participating retailers.
