Dane Chamorro, an associate in Control Associated risk Group's Asia Ocean practice, said a greater exodus would rely upon whether the secureness law preserves Hong Kong's online business law framework and also free movement for capital.

"You will present people concerned about that for sure, but they'll not leave as longer as those two things what are the, " Chamorro says, adding many world companies operate during countries with tedious security regimes.

Furthermore important is practicing the sanctity for contracts, consistent hard work rules and estimated regulation, Chamorro says.

Peter Humphrey, a former commercial fraud investigator who has been imprisoned by China for almost two years, said few companies have decided for a "sudden event" the place Chinese security factors seize control.

"Hong Kong currently is under much bigger threat of intervention than this has been before, that's generate profits see it, inches said Humphrey, now an external research keep company with Harvard University's Fairbank Target for Chinese Tests.

Foreign companies during Hong Kong, especially those going through confidential information, need plans "to cover their operations instantly", she said.
