fitting and valves

Posted by haoyunlaiol9 - 2014/04/26 17:07

_____

Sulphuric sulfuric acid plant engineering is also used to split or join a number of pipes together, and for other purposes. A broad variety of standardized pipe fittings are available; they are generally broken down into either a tee, an elbow, a branch, a reducer/enlarger, or a wye. Valves control fluid flow and regulate pressure. The piping and plumbing fittings and valves articles discuss them further.

==========