Former PGA Tour player Bobby Clampett offers his own take on improving a golf game through his Impact Zone Golf out of Naples, Fla. Much like Golf & Body NYC, Clampett's school puts an emphasis on physical fitness through biomechanical and yoga instructors. That is done either at the company's headquarters in Florida or through one of its travelling schools, where in the spring and fall he travels to various cities across the United States.
Foley is just one of a number of swing coaches offering their expertise to recreational golfers, though. Others, such as David Leadbetter, who worked with former major winners such as Nick Faldo and Greg Norman, or former Woods coach Hank Haney offer their expertise to the public through academies and both written and online lessons.
