Donor Unknown forum - Donor Unknown

Generated: 18 August, 2025, 05:11

in keynote GOP speechPosted by alisawhite123 -2020/08/26 14:21 font size=-1>First lady Melania Trump delivered one of the longest and most personal speeches of her career Tuesday night, using her keynote address to strike a personal note and deviate from the Republican National Convention s more partisan attacks.   Among other things, she spoke freely about her immigration from Slovenia, a small country that split from Yugoslavia in the early 1990s.      Growing up as a young child in Slovenia, which was under communist rule at the time, I always heard about an amazing place called America, a place that stands for freedom and opportunity, * Trump said, speaking from the recently renovated White House Rose Garden with her husband in the audience.   "As an immigrant and a very independent woman, I understand what a privilege it is to live here and to enjoy the freedoms and opportunities that we have, • she added.   The soft rhetoric about immigration marked the end point of a day in which Republicans painted a more moderate stance on the issue than President Trump has embraced while in office. Earlier Tuesday, the GOP convention featured a naturalization ceremony personally hosted by Trump, whose policies have significantly reduced both illegal and legal immigration. As a candidate and as president, Trump has frequently used caustic rhetoric to describe immigrants and their motives for coming to the U. S.  smokingusacigarettes.com]Online Cigarettes Store USA>cfont =========